TO OUR CUSTOMERS:

Our dahlia farm had its beginning almost 25 years ago when it was little more than an overgrown hobby. This season our planting totals 25 acres with machinery and storage facilities to successfully handle the stock.

Our dahlias are dug in the fall following the first killing frost. The clumps are thoroughly washed and separated as they are brought from the fields. All outside moisture is removed from the tuber and it is immediately stored away in dry peat and sawdust. This practice insures strong, firm tubers at shipping time.

Every tuber shipped from our warehouse is individually inspected for live eyes and the absence of fungus infections. We ship no Mother or two-year-old stock and include no tuber that is broken or injured in any way. Stock is selected for uniformity and a desired size may be requested at time of ordering.

We ship only the finest quality stock and if stock is received that does not meet your highest ideals of quality you may return it without obligation.

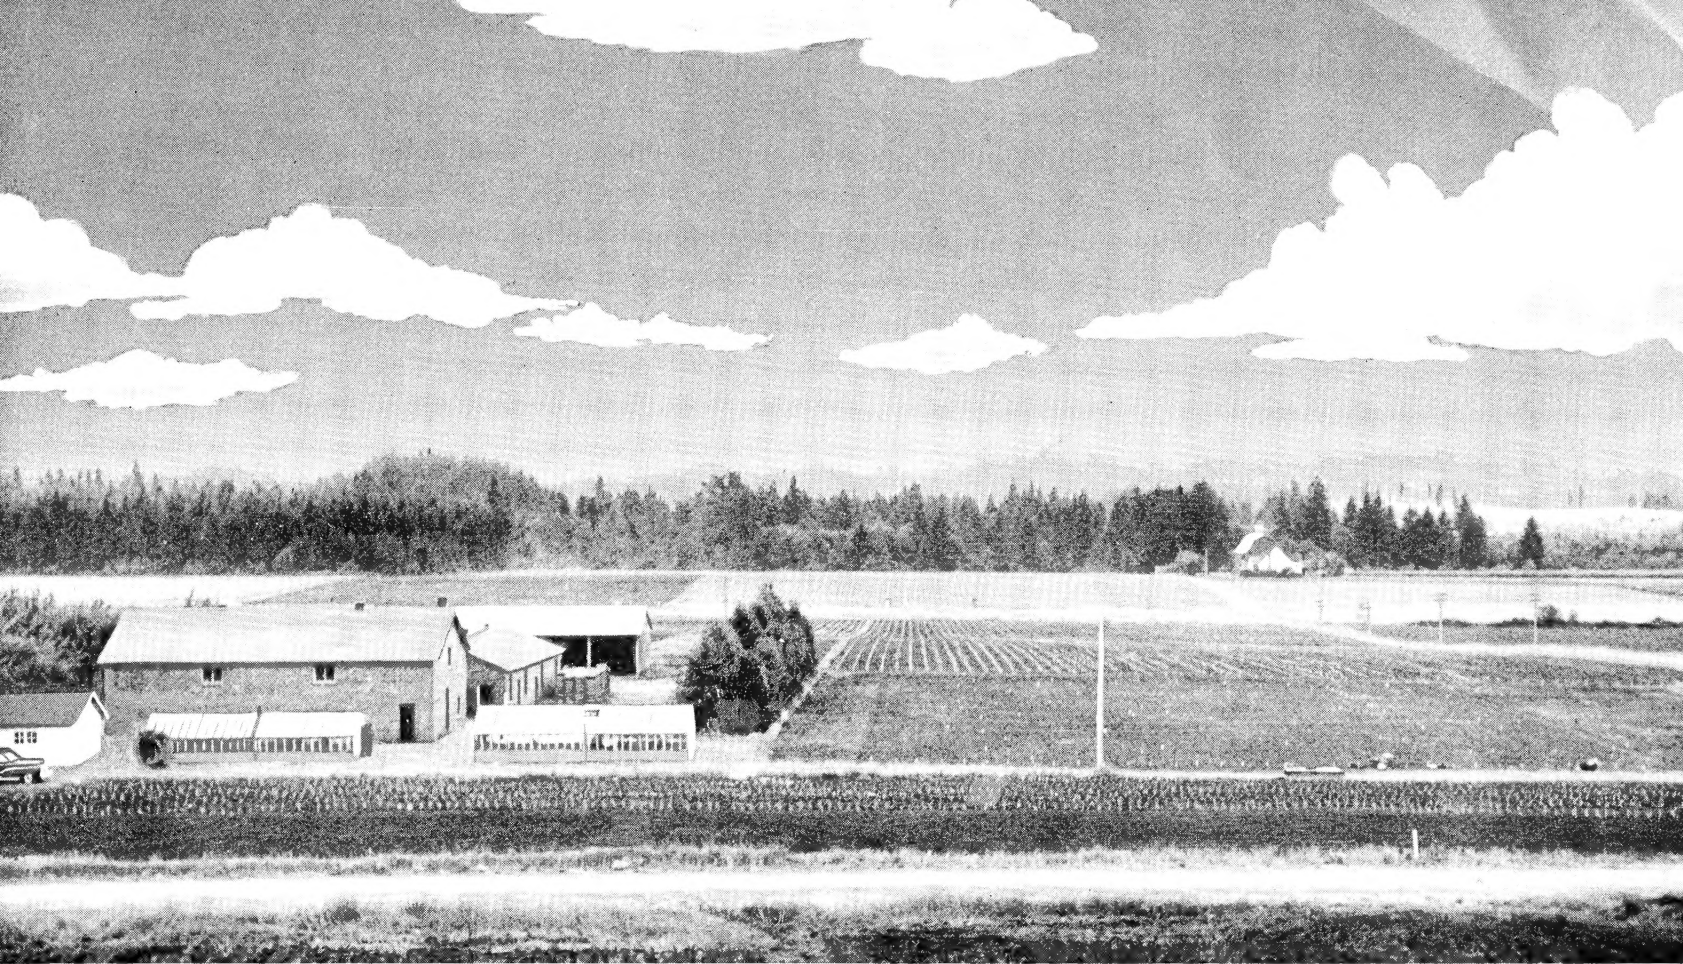

We request that you book your order with us at the earliest possible date so your stock will be reserved and ready for you on the date you want delivery.

All prices are F.O.B. Portland. Extra count is included to help defray transportation costs.

We are located 20 miles southeast of Portland and just two miles from the famous Oregon Bulb Farms, Inc. Make this a double stop on your visit to Oregon.

Cactus and Semi-Cactus Dahlias

The cactus dahlias are gaining popularity each season and are the topic of discussion at all the shows. Ranging in size from 4 in. to the 12 in. giants they satisfy the needs of the gardener who wants to grow them for cut flowers and the gardener who wants something striking and unusual for that special spot in the garden. Cut flower keeping qualities are generally better and they are by far the choice of the florist.

CACTUS—Double flowers, full to the center, with long, narrow, pointed petals, incurved, recurved or straight, but rolled more than half their length.

SEMI-CACTUS—Double flowers, full to the center, with coarse, twisted petals, usually somewhat incurved, and rolled ordinarily less than half their length.

OUR DAHLIA COLLECTIONS

Our dahlia collections are a fast selling item for the retail store and are the easiest way to handle tubers if you are not equipped with display bins for labeled varieties. Our carton is in three colors with a natural color reproduction to indicate type.

All cartons are packed firm with peat and dry sawdust to keep tubers from shriveling.

Stock for collections receives the same careful individual inspection as does stock we ship in bulk orders. Tubers are firm, well eyed and free of fungus infections.

Cultural and planting guides are included with each collection.
